The division is made up of various units including, but not limited to, appeals, homicide, child predator, victim witness services, felony screening, crime strategies, misdemeanor trial, sex crimes, traffic safety resources and Wilmington units. Criminal prosecutors also have administrative duties including extraditions, forfeiture hearings, Safe Street violations of probations, discretionary expungements, homicide cases and other legal services provided to law enforcement.

Civil Division

The Civil Division provides legal services to state agencies and departments, enabling them to serve the public interest. The division is responsible for providing legal services to the Governor and General Assembly, as well as officers, departments, boards, agencies, commissions and other instrumentalities of state government. The division also provides formal and informal opinions of the Attorney General, represents the State's interest in civil litigation, conducts administrative prosecutions, acts as counsel to administrative bodies, provides representation to the public in certain labor matters and provides legislative drafting and review services for members of the General Assembly and state agencies.

PUBLIC DEFENDER
15-02-01

MISSION

29 Del. C. c. 46 established the Public Defender's Office (PDO) to preserve the constitutional rights of indigent defendants through the assistance of counsel in all critical stages of the criminal justice process. In addition, the Public Defender has the professional duty to assist the courts to improve the quality of justice.

KEY OBJECTIVES

The primary goal of the PDO is to provide effective assistance of counsel to its clients, while responsibly using the agency's resources. In an effort to achieve its primary goal, the PDO has identified the following key objectives:

- Conduct intake interviews with incarcerated individuals within 24 hours of incarceration and make attorney assignments within one day thereafter;
- Make full use of Judicial's Information Technology Division and Delaware Justice Information System to open client files;
- Require attorneys to contact incarcerated clients in person or by videophone to prepare their defense; and
- Require psycho-forensic evaluators (PFEs) to produce a minimum of 60 court plans each year.

BACKGROUND AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The PDO is a criminal defense law firm directed by the Chief Public Defender. The PDO's practice is organized into four sections: Legal Services, Office of Conflict Counsel, Administrative Services and Technology Services.

Legal Services

The Legal Services section provides representation to indigents accused of crime through all stages of criminal proceedings, including the pre-trial, trial and appeal stages of court proceedings. The PDO provides competent defense counsel for clients statewide in the Supreme Court, Superior Court, Court of Common Pleas and Family Court. Attorneys from the PDO also represent clients in Newark Alderman's Court. Public Defender attorneys provided legal representation involving approximately 47,000 cases during Fiscal Year 2014.

Office of Conflict Counsel

Effective November 1, 2011, the administration of the Conflict Attorneys program was transferred from the Judicial Branch to the PDO. A Chief Conflict Counsel and a Paralegal are directly responsible for administering the statewide Conflict Attorneys program within the Office of Conflict Counsel (OCC).

The Conflict Attorneys program is a network of 26 criminal defense attorneys who are contracted independently to represent indigent criminal defendants ineligible for PDO representation due to conflicts of interest. Conflict attorneys retain needed ancillary service providers through OCC.

Administrative Services

The Administrative Services section includes executive and administrative support staff. The executive staff establishes and enforces policies and goals and is responsible for daily administration, assigning cases, supervising personnel and drafting programs. The administrative support staff maintains and processes financial and personnel transactions, maintains office inventory and prepares federal and state reports.

Technology Services

Technology Services develops, implements and maintains all aspects of computer technology, which includes the statewide Criminal Justice Center's videophone system.
